Trial Code of Conduct

JCAC trials are designed to be a fun, safe, and neutral environment, free from the everyday challenges and stresses of life. Handlers come to enjoy competing in agility with their dogs and fellow handlers. Playful banter, humor, and comical attire, as long as it's in good taste, are all acceptable at all JCAC trials.

However, unsportsmanlike behavior, including harassment of trial personnel or fellow competitors, and apparel or signage that includes hate speech, crude/vulgar language, strong political views, or anything else deemed in poor taste, will not be tolerated on trial grounds. Each case will be discussed by the Trial Committee members. If the Committee's findings result in a violation of the club's trial Code of Conduct, the person or people may be dismissed from the trial grounds. Depending on the severity of the violation, additional actions may be taken by JCAC and/or NADAC.
